

Who? Checkmark the answers that apply:

In v12, Paul says “we”. To whom is he referring?

- Everyone
- Jews who believe in Jesus
- Greeks who believe in Jesus
- Anyone who believes in Jesus

In v13, Paul writes “you”. To whom is he referring?

- Everyone
- Greeks who believe in Jesus
- Anyone who believes in Jesus
- The second and third answers.

Look back to v10 and think about how Christ’s blood unites these different people groups. Will believes be more like the Jews or the Greeks or something else? (Hint: also look ahead to 2:15b)

Because of who Jesus was and what he did, Jews, Gentiles, you and I receive blessings through him when we hear, believe, and receive the Holy Spirit. All to the praise of God’s glory! This inheritance is both our salvation and our future dwelling with God forever in God’s place as God’s people. Draw a picture of what you think that might look like here:
